DISTRICT CROPPINGS

And Other Items of Interest in a General Way

The picnic given at the Atholmer and Wilmer school children last Friday at Canterbury proved an entire success if one may judge from the happy looking faces and sayings of the little people. The kindness of the teachers in their endeavors to make the children happy will for many a long year live in the memory of these bright children who have not so many of these little attentions and enjoyments as perhaps they should. Yes, that last ball match, the war, jumping, swimming, etc., apple, cake, lemonade, etc., etc., will be remembered by them in the years to come as one of the happiest days in their lives.

The Imperial Bank of Canada is an enterprising institution that is ever extending its capital, branches and influence throughout this wide Dominion. In the past few years it has established many branch offices throughout the West and also continues to expand in the east, its latest enterprise there is to open another branch of this bank in a few days at New Liskeard, Ontario.

At the Wilmer Mining Recorder's office B. S. Gallup on the 23rd recorded a year's work on the M. T. Fraction situated on the North Fork of Toby creek. Wm. Taynton and Ed. Parry on the 1st record the location of the Hope on June 16th, which is a promising mineral claim situated on the North Fork of Toby creek.

The dance given as a leave-taking of Mrs. Hunter, Miss Booth and Miss Ford proved very enjoyable, although the weather prevented many from attending who would very much like to have been present. However, there was a very fair crowd in attendance and all report a good time.

H. G. Parson of Golden made the round trip on the Parmigan last week in order to look after his business interests here. Mr. Parson says he looks forward to a general revival in all lines of business now that the railway is assured and speaks encouragingly of the immediate prospects of the valley.

There is no reason why the mineral exhibit from the Windermere district at the Dominion Exhibition to be held at New Westminster should not be the most attractive one there.

C. Troyer presented The Outcrop with several fine boxes of strawberries last Saturday from his Windermere garden.

Struck One Foot of Clean Ore

B. S. Gallup reports that while doing the annual assessment work on the M. T. Fraction, situated on the North Fork of Toby creek, a new ledge was uncovered showing one foot of clean ore. This ledge was followed along the surface a distance of about 600 feet and it extends into the Delphine ground, where it was followed about 700 feet. The ore appears to be of the same class as the high grade ore shipped from the M. T. a year or two ago. This strike has greatly encouraged the owners of these properties and W. H. Beatty who is working the Delphine under lease. Mr. Gallup is going up in a few days to do further development on the M. T.

Want Ore Samples at Portland

It appears that at the Portland fair B. C. has no mineral exhibit whatever. This is to be deeply regretted and many persons are wondering why the department under the Minister of Mines did not attend to this matter. Mr. F. R. Hochberger, a Nelson mining man, is at the fair and writing of his disappointment at this lack of enterprise says: "I have with great difficulty as an individual representing B. C. obtained a collection of ten feet square for the purpose of building a pyramid, which built from the floor will reach between seven to nine feet in height, so that I will have some room to display all the samples that may be sent to me from the different districts and mines of the Province. As the mining building is crowded with all kinds of exhibits I consider it best to make the B. C. exhibits of mineral, etc., in the foreign building, there being no mineral exhibits in this building the B. C. exhibit will be quite an attraction in itself. Samples of ore should be sent to me here at my office, 202 Second street, by express prepaid and properly labeled as soon as possible and I shall place and display the said samples at the place and building mentioned, so that fair visitors will receive demonstrations at a glance that the Cascade and Selkirk ranges in B. C. are not only famous for scenery but also for the great wealth they contain."

MR. SHARPE SAYS HE

Never Saw Better Fruit Trees Anywhere

Mr. T. Sharpe, who has charge of the Government Experimental Farm located at Agassiz, spent the greater part of last week examining the farms in this district, leaving on Sunday for Parmigan for children. Saturday evening he called at the Outcrop office accompanied by Mr. Bruce, but unfortunately was in a hurry to get away to Atholmer to spend the night on board the boat as it started early next morning, and therefore, an interview was cut short. However, Mr. Sharpe very kindly agreed to write a report of his trip through the valley and his impressions gathered for The Outcrop and mail it to us as early a date possible, which evidently will be most favorable. From a brief conversation it was easily observed that Mr. Sharpe is deeply interested in agriculture and that it is a pleasure for him to talk on the subject, which he discusses so earnestly that he arouses the interest of all who come in contact with him; in brief he is the right man in the right position.

"How do the fruit trees in this valley compare with the rest of the Province, Mr. Sharpe?" was the first question asked.

"Well, I think the fruit trees here compare most favorably with the best in the Province. I have never seen better fruit trees anywhere. I may mention Mr. Browne's at Fairmont for instance. His apple trees are very fine, healthy trees and I am told he has never had a failure; and his orchard has been bearing for many years. Yes, he has had twelve successful crops I believe. Then Mr. Teagart, back of Windermere, has a good orchard and I noticed particularly one plum tree that was loaded with fruit. There are a number of other fine orchards I visited. I don't remember all the names now, but I have them in my note book. Yes, Mr. Kimpton has a big orchard and a lot of good trees. He told me of some turnips he grew last year that eclipse any I ever heard of for size."

Company's Charter Requires 15 Per Cent to be Expended--Looks Like Business

The best railway news to reach here during the past week came from Golden where it is stated that tenders are being called for the construction of six miles of the Kootenay Central Railway south from Golden, the contracts to be awarded today--Thursday. It is further stated that among others the well-known firm of railway contractors, Brackenridge & Lund, have men on the ground figuring on the contract.

A spirit of inquiry was manifest throughout the district upon the arrival of the steamer Parmigan Saturday bearing the foregoing good news under the terms of the K. C. R. charter extension and The Outcrop has looked up the Act for the benefit of its readers and herewith produces it from Chapter 142 of the Dominion Statutes of 1903--passed on June 15th, 1903--which reads:

"Section 12 of Chapter 71 of the Statutes of 1901 is hereby repealed and the following substituted therefor:

"12. If the construction of the railway is not commenced, and 15 per cent of the amount of the capital stock is not expended thereon, within three years from the passing of this Act, or if the railway is not finished and put in operation within six years from the passing of this Act, the powers conferred upon the Company by Parliament shall cease and be null and void as respects so much of the railway as there remains uncompleted."

The capital stock of the K. C. R. Co. is $1,000,000 and according to the above 15 per cent of this must be spent by June 25th, 1906, in order to keep the charter alive. In other words $150,000 must be expended in construction by the 25th of next June.

After getting the foregoing in type it was discovered that another amendment was made in the charter on June 6th, 1904, to the amendments of 1901 and 1903, which is as follows:

"If construction of the railway is not commenced and 15 per cent of the capital stock is not expended thereon on or before the 1st day of May, 1906, or if the railway is not finished and put in operation on or before May, 1909, the powers conferred upon the Company by Parliament shall cease and become null and void as respects so much of the railway as then remains uncompleted."

It is argued that to spend 15 per cent by that time a great amount of work must be done this year.

From the foregoing quotations some may think that the road will not be finished until the year 1909, but that is not so. It must be remembered that the road was bonused under the express agreement that construction was to commence before August 1, 1905, and completed on or before August 1, 1907.

The Government has been very lenient with the K. C. R. Co., and it cannot expect any further extension of time, and when a company like the C. P. R. starts to build this road it is a safe gamble that it will be completed in the shortest time possible.

There are still some people alive who say the sale, in a paper are never read. Nearly every person our reporter met during the past week referred to the Atholmer Townsite Company's ad, and remarked on the slowness and lack of enterprise displayed by the company owning the Wilmer townsite at being an ad. in The Outcrop. Wonder how so many people found all this out if no one reads the ads?

BOOSTS THIS COUNTRY

C. A. Garde Was Very Favorably Impressed

Says There is a Greater Variety of Ore Here Than any Other Part of Kootenay That He Knows

One district of Kootenay owes its first growth to neither mining nor lumbering but to agriculture. The district south of Golden, in which are situated Windermere, Wilmer and Atholmer, is rich in minerals, but lack of transportation facilities has long retarded, and to some extent still retards the development of its mineral resources. The district also contains valuable timber limits, but the logs have to be taken down to the Windermere mills at considerable expense. While mining and lumbering are thus potential rather than actual sources of wealth, agriculture has made considerable progress.

A. C. Garde returned Sunday evening from a trip through the valleys of the Upper Kootenay and Upper Columbia rivers from Fort Steele to Golden and return. In conversation with a reporter of the Daily News Mr. Garde said:

"I don't wish to say very much about the mines. Generally they impress me very favorably. I believe the Windermere district will ultimately be a great mining country. The sole reason for its very slow development in my opinion, is the reluctance of capital to touch properties in a district from which shipping is at present impossible for lack of transportation. It is a pity that the Kootenay Central was not built long ago. Many claim owners have grown discouraged from waiting too long."

"There is a greater variety of ore there than in any other part of Kootenay that I know. Gold, silver, copper and lead are plentiful and other minerals also occur. The country has many advantages for mining. Large areas are quite level, the whole country is well watered, and snowfalls are very rare. Then because the country is fairly well settled with prosperous ranchers, supplies are much cheaper than elsewhere. There are good roads too. The Government seems to have been particularly generous with appropriations in that district. An automobile could be run from Golden to Fort Steele."

"Most of the farmers have gone in for stock raising chiefly. It will not be a good fruit country, that is, not nearly as good as Nelson district. It is higher and colder. But the land is very fertile and seems capable of producing anything. Irrigation is a very simple matter where good streams flow over wide level benches. Even the Indians are irrigating. As soon they have some of the best land in the district. They are quite progressive, clean, industrious and well-behaved."

"No, I am afraid I cannot give you definite news of any particular mining operations. I saw many prospects, some that seemed to me to be very promising, but there are difficulties in the way of their development, and will be until the railway through the valley is completed."--Nelson News.

[The New comments on lumbering and transportation is considerably out but the intention was evidently good. As quoted Mr. Garde is also somewhat mistaken and when he hears what Mr. Sharpe has said of this as a fruit country may be a little surprised.]

STICK TO YOUR TOWN

Said the groceryman to the butcherman:
"It is really a sin
That you buy salt on the wholesale plan
And don't let me handle the tin".
Then he hid him back to the grocery store,
And quickly an order sent
For a few choice hams for family use
And a box of fish for lent.

Said the clothier man to the hardware man:
"You certainly don't do right,
When you order a suit from the eastern house
With my big stock in sight".
But the clothier wanted a new steel range
And it came, as the neighbors know,
In a box he tried to hide in a barn,
Marked, "Timothy Eaton & Co."

The business men then called a meeting
To see where the trouble lay,
And they all agreed 'twas the editor man
And not the devil to pay.

"Why don't he roast the department stores
And the peddling fakirs," they said:
"And stand by those who patronize him,
And give him his daily bread?"

So they drew up a compact long and strong
For the editor to persevere
And waited on him with aspect grim
As he solemnly dug for news.
But the editor laughed a big horse laugh
Till the gang all took to the woods,
For 'twas written on axle grease letter heads
That came with a bill of goods.—E.E.

A GAME TENDERFOOT

"This here town was the same as any new camp; a mile long and 18 inches wide, consisting of saloons, dance halls, saloons, trading posts, saloons, places to get licker and saloons. Might not have been so many dance halls and trading posts as I've mentioned, and a few more saloons.

"I dropped into a joint called the Reception, and who'd I see playing bank but Single Out Wilmer. At the same table was a nice, tender Philadelphia quash, 'bout fryin' size, and while I was watching, Wilmer pulls down a bet belonging to it. That's an old game.

"Pardon me," says the broker; 'you have my checks.'

"What?" growls Single Out; 'I knowed this game before you quit nuptials, bright eyes. I can protect my own bets.'

"That's right," chimes the dealer, who I seen was Curly Budd, Wilmer's pard.

"Do you really think you had ought to play this? It's a man's game," says Wilmer, nasty. I expected to see the youngster dog it. Nothin' of the kind.

"That's my bet!" he says again.

"Single Out just looks black and snarls at the dealer, 'Turn the cards!'

"Oh, very well," says the chechako, talking like a little girl. Somebody encircled, and thinks I, 'I'll tarry awhile and see 'em sing the fowl.'

"Well, by and by Wilmer shifted another stack belonging to the easterner.

"The lad never begged his pardon nor nothin'." He let just shot out and landed on the high corner of Wilmer's jaw, clean and fair. Of all the cordial, why-ho-do-you-do-mule-kicks handed down in rhyme and story, that wallop was the adopted daddy.

"When he struck, I hopped the bar, for I see Curly grab at the drawer, and I have aversions to witnessing gun plays from the front end. The tenderfoot risk up in his chair, and snatchin' a stack of rede in his off mit, dashed 'em into Curly's face just as he pulled trigger. It spoiled his aim, and the boy was on to him like a mountain lion, follerin' over the table. Curly let go that 'six' like he was plumb tired of it, and the kid welled him over the ear just once. Then he turned, and took in the line-up at a sweep of his lamps:

"Any of you gentlemen got ideas on the subject?" he says.

"It was all that dashed and gentled that I speaks up without thinkin', 'You for me, pardner!'
